Season of Reseeding

“For everything there is a season, a time for every activity under heaven.” Ecclesiastics 3:1

As we enter the season of autumn, I am reminded of the above words of the preacher in Ecclesiastics. Change continues to happen and we have seen no shortage of change in 2020. The season of autumn is a time of reaping and gathering and preparing for the winter months. This year I have found that some of the plants in our small garden have already gone to seed. As I observe this, I am encouraged to look at this fall as a season of reseeded. (reseeded is not to be confused with receding; which in the hair department I am well aware of!) Looking at autumn as a time of reseeded is to see this season as having provision, a time of hope and preparation for the future. I encourage you to take time this autumn to look at the reseeded in your life. Autumn brings the harvesting of crops and grains, which are full of seeds that we joyfully eat. Reseeded makes me thankful for the many good things that are provided for us. I am thankful for relationships and I want to reseed love and forgiveness into those relationships.

Similarly, just as the autumn harvest allows for the gathering of seed for next spring’s planting, I encourage you to have hope for the season ahead. Let’s be honest, this year has not been easy for anyone we could stand planting some more hope around. Take some time to reseed hope and peace to those around you.

Lastly, reseeded is a time to prepare for the next season. In each season of the year we both enjoy the current time but realize that it is transitioning us to the next season. At this present time, I need to be aware that before I know it something new will be here, therefore I must be prepared. As you prepare for change in the seasons ahead, remember you are not alone God is our ever-present help in times of trouble (Psalm 46:1).

Blessings,
Pastor Kevin Schwartz
